I have owned and operated my business, 'Your Authentic Voice' for 25+ years. I help people to uncover their voice and to discover the beauty of freedom that comes from authentic expression and communication.

'Your Authentic Voice' is an artist development program for singers, speakers, and business professionals to develop the power of their voice and authentic expression through:

- Private lessons online or in person.
- Groups classes and workshops.
- Choir groups.
- Local and international retreats.

In various ways including:

- Freeing the natural voice.
- Overcoming stage fright and the overall fear of singing and being seen.
- Experiencing the power of harmony and connection in a choir setting.
- Meditation & breathing classes.
- Understanding the nervous system and how it affects the voice.
- Learning to express and improvise without any 'rules.'

My experience working with groups of people through my retreats in Alberta, BC, Mexico, Costa Rica and Maui has also developed many organizational skills:

- Marketing - social media & weekly newsletters for 'Your Sacred Voice.'
- Graphic design - creating posters, content for workshops/retreats.
- Working with hotels and locations to organize rooms and meals etc.
- Creating fun experiences and excursions for the participants.
- Learning to listen to the group as a whole to know what they need.
- Detailed planning and scheduling.
- Organizing Cabarets and recitals for singers/performers - 4x year
- Video & audio production.
- Photography.

Self Employed/Entrepreneur

Anna Beaumont (Voice Teacher) (Singer) - Edmonton, AB

January 1995 to Present

The work that I do as a voice teacher is an integration of singing, music and psychology. I help people to uncover what is in the way of their voice as well as to develop the whole person for wellness as well as singing.

For many years I have also have run a small choir developing harmonies, dynamics and beauty for each chosen song. I have written my own songs for the choir to sing.

As a voice teacher and facilitator I have been teaching for over 20 years and have hosted retreats in various locations like Mexico and Costa Rica.

I have 4 albums to my credit as well have written 4 National Theme songs one of them being for the World Championships in Athletics in 2001.

I have been named a Legend of the City of Edmonton and in my performing career have many performances and credits to my name.

Additional Information

My great passion is learning about the Self and how the voice reflects my inner growth.

I also enjoy walking my dog, doing yoga, running, skiing and generally being outside in the great outdoors.

I love to have dinner parties and creating beautiful food for people.

On a side note I recently completed making a music video called 'Keep Walking.'

It is a song for these times about keeping going through it all and not trying to see too far ahead. If you'd like to view it you can here:
